

Newsletter

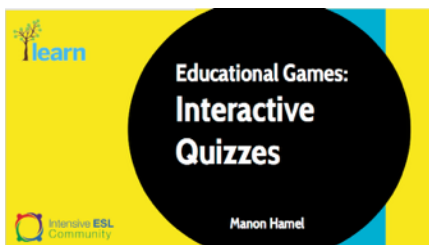

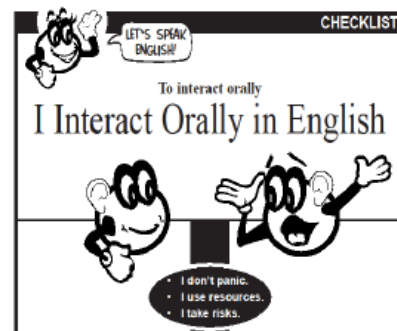

Intensive ESL Community

May 2016

Archived web event: Making C1 Work!

In May, the MEES ESL Programs Team (Anne Millette, Teresa Capparelli and Pascale Pellerin) animated a web event for Intensive ESL teachers and CPs: Making C1 Work! Feedback in the ESL Classroom.

During this web event, participants explored the characteristics of a solid C1 task, effective feedback and corrective feedback techniques, as well as concrete examples. View the archive on this page.

Archived web event: Interactive Quizzes

The Interactive Quizzes web event is now archived! Manon Hamel presented 4 user-friendly sites/apps that you can use in your classroom, and pinpointed how they can be an asset to your teaching. If you don't have access to tech tools in your classroom, this is a must, she even had a solution for you! View the archive here.

End-of-the-Year Student Gift

Give your students something they will cherish forever - a keepsake to remind them of all the wonderful qualities their classmates and teachers saw in them.

End of the Year Activity

Download this free guide to create meaningful, budget-friendly gifts for your students at the end of the year. Have each student (and yourself!) write one positive attribute for every student in the class. Then use those words to create a Wordle for every child. Click here to view.

Oral Interaction Posters for Intensive ESL

Did you know that there is a set of oral interaction posters made especially for Intensive ESL?

Produced by the Laval-Laurentides-Lanaudières regional table in 2013, these new oral interaction posters were created to provide Intensive English students with more of a variety of functional language, and some grammar examples for extra support.

There are 25 posters and they are available in black and white or colour.

Contact your CP to obtain a set of these invaluable Intensive Oral Interaction Posters!

For further information or questions:
Intensive ESL team - carolyn.buteau@gmail.com